Admin Interactions Storyboard

Admin accesses the web application homepage and clicks admin login to log in.

Admin is presented with the admin login page and enters his admin credentials then clicks the submit button.
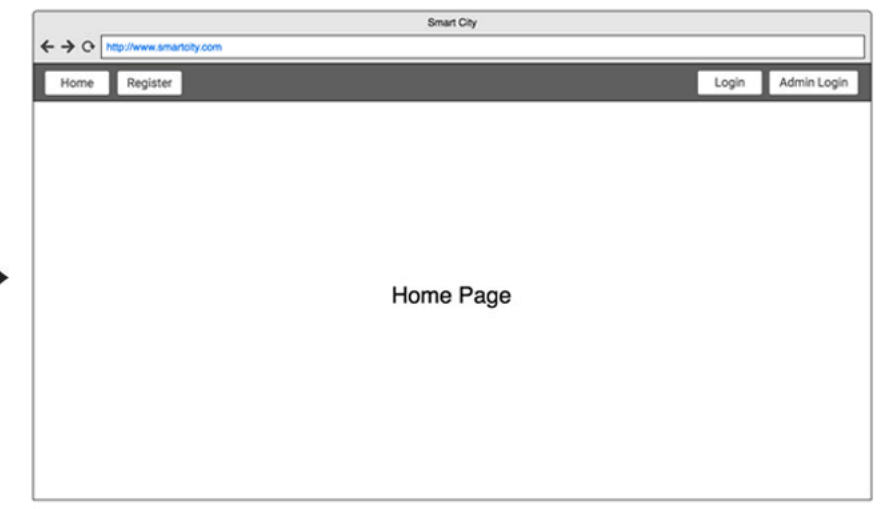

Admin has entered incorrect login information and is asked to try again. Admin enters the correct admin login credentials this time and clicks submit.

Admin logs in successfully and is presented with the admin page. Admin wants to add information to the database so fills in the required fields and clicks submit.

Information is successfully added into database and the admin decides he wants to sign out. Admin clicks the sign out button.

Admin is signed out and redirected back to the home page.